Followup Media Coverage on Dimock Continues - Local and national media continue to provide detailed coverage on EPA's decision to perform water sampling at 61 homes in Dimock, Pa. Television crews from local stations in Pennsylvania and New York were on hand to cover the water being delivered to residents and the beginning of sampling from some of the homes. Media coverage this week also focused on comments and a letter to EPA from Cabot Oil and Gas that criticized EPA's decision to conduct more sampling. Along with coverage from local newspapers and television, several investigative news websites are reporting daily on new developments and providing commentary.
